

TITRE DE LA LEÇON : ASKING FOR AND GIVING ADVICE

Discipline : Anglais

Sous-discipline : Communication

Cycle : Lycée

-

Niveau : Première C

An advice is an opinion that someone gives to another on the way to act or behave in front of a situation.

1-Asking for advice

To ask for advice, you must first present your problem and then ask the question.

Example:

Problem: My girlfriend is pregnant.

Question: What do you advise me to do?

Useful expressions for asking advice

-What do you advise me to do?

-What do you suggest?

-What should I do?

-What advice can you give me?

Examples:

-I have a headache. What should I do?

-My son is not back from school. What do you suggest?

2-Giving advice

To give some advice to someone, we can say:

-I advise you to ...

-You must ...

-I would advise you to ...

-You should ...

-If I were you, I would ... / If I were you, I'd ...

-Why don't you ...?

Examples:

-I advise you to go and see a doctor.

-You should call the principal.

Practice 1: Read the dialogues aloud.

A: I'm very tired. What should I do?

B: You should have a rest.

A: My daughter is always connected on internet. What do you advise me to do?

B: You must talk to her frankly.

Exercise one: Complete the dialogues below with the correct expression.

Dialogue 1:

A: You look tired. What's the matter?

B: I have a temperature. me to do?

B: If I were you, talk to Aunt Suzanne. Perhaps she'll take you to hospital.

Dialogue 2 :

A: Excuse me, Ben. I often get bad marks in English.?

B: join an English club.

Dialogue 3:

A: Excuse me dad, I don't like this food.

B: cook spaghetti?

A: My compound where I rent is noisy. What do you suggest?

B:, I would change the compound.